

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL.

VOL. XVIII.

STANFORD, KY., TUESDAY, MAY 5, 1890.

NO. 19

LEGISLATIVE DOINGS.

—Both Houses have passed the bill providing a whipping post for the punishment of vagrants and tramps in Marion county.

—Owing to the duty devolving upon it of electing a U. S. Senator, the Legislature will necessarily be extended after the 12th, but then the 12th was set for extension before that contingency arose.

—The Senate is contemplating a wonderfully funny body. It passed the silly anti-circus bill just for fun after spending several previous hours in permuting its members to get off much ancient and worn cotton wool.

—The governor will veto the bill giving medical colleges the licenses of convicts. He takes the ground that this is ex post facto law, adding punishment not contemplated in the criminal statutes, besides no penalties are prescribed for a violation of the provisions of the bill.

—The Mason-Board Company have renewed their proposition to surrender control of the convict labor and in such a manner that there is no possible doubt of their sincerity. Now let the body put up or shut up. The people are tired of this everlasting record-making of some of the little fellows who have unfortunately broken into the capital.

—Mr. Warren has ordered the following: To amend an act reducing into one the several acts in relation to the town of Crab Orchard, authorizing the county court of Lancaster county to pay A. M. Feland the amount overpaid by said Feland as late sheriff of said county money due him for the years 1876 and 1877, delinquent and for the benefit of Christian College, Hustonville.

—The Senate has passed a very strong anti-seining bill which provides that any person placing or using in any of the waters of this state any fish trap, set, net, dip net, fish rack, seine, gill hook, brush drifter or any such contrivance, or who shall kill fish with a gun, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction thereof shall be fined not less than $25 nor more than $100 for each offense; and in case of failure to pay such fine and cost of prosecution, shall be confined in the jail of the county for any length of time not exceeding one day for each dollar of fine and costs so imposed. Punishment is punished by fine of not less than $100 nor more than $200, with the jail penalty unless paid.

—McComas has at last reported his bill to prevent gerrymandering to the House.

—J. Wash Davis, Jr., a well-known young man, died in Louisville Sunday.

—Strikes are the order of the day all over the country to enforce an 8-hour day at 10 hours' pay.

—President Harrison has appointed David E. Bryant United States judge for the Eastern district of Texas.

—The democrats elected 5 of the 7 commissioners in Harrodsburg Saturday. The republicans have heretofore carried the offices.

—The Lexington race course will charge $1 admission this season and no females will be allowed on the grounds unless accompanied by a gentleman and both of good character.

—The family of Senator Beck are in receipt of telegrams of condolence from all parts of the country. Mr. Cleveland and Gov. Bulker sending especially sympathetic ones.

—Col. J. W. Sloss, the pioneer iron manufacturer of the South, died at Birmingham, Ala., aged 55 years. He was the head of the great Sloss Steel & Iron Co., and had built half a dozen turnpikes and developed a dozen or more coal and iron mines in the South.

—The Senate passed the House anti-trust bill and it is now ready for the governor. It is to prohibit trusts in the State, but as it is crudely drawn and badly considered it is feared that it will prove more injurious than beneficial to the interests of the state.

—Burt Ackers, a drunken section boss, on the Kentucky Union road, fired three shots at Jerry McMillin Sunday in a passenger train near Clay City. McMillin and his wife were wounded and a Mrs. Lowry, of Clay City, may die from the effects of one of the bullets.

—Chas. E. Hoge and H. P. Mason, of the Mason and Ford Company, of Frankfort, acting for themselves individually, have obtained from the Home Construction Company the five year's lease held by that company of the Kentucky Midland railway. It is said that they will greatly improve the road and add considerable new rolling stock to its equipment.

—Pension Agent C. J. Walton's report for April shows that there are in Kentucky 10,321 invalid and 3,322 widowed pensioners, making a total of 13,643. There are 1,231 widows with no children; 94 minor children; 259 mothers; one dependent son; two dependent daughters; 251 fathers. There are also in his list 14 survivors of the war of 1812 and 370 widows; 813 survivors of the Mexican war and 373 widows. There are in his district 1,147 minor children to whom pension money is paid. During the month 279 new pensions have been granted.

LANCASTER, GARRARD COUNTY.

—John M. Higginbotham, Paint Clerk, has purchased of Mrs. Mahalia Haydon, her desirable property on Stanford street, paying $7,000 cash. We are glad to state that Mr. Higginbotham and wife will soon become residents of Lancaster.

—Cornell College furnishes four graduates, Miss Mathe, Ekin, Maggie, and Mary Miller, Lancaster, and Miss Alice Yeiser, Danville. They are studiously and zealously preparing their essays, which we feel safe in predicting will be each in itself "a feast of reason and a flow of soul."

—On Friday last the sale of land belonging to J. S. Call's estate took place. Tom Stone, of Garrard, bought one tract of 65 acres for $13,340. James A. Reynolds one tract of 19 acres at $70. Judge Pettus, of Somerset, 193 acres at $34. The homestead was taken down at $1080. Also tract No. 2 at $2750. Mrs. Call bought the town residence, paying $5,000 and 16 acres at $100, also within town limits.

—Our P. M. has received one of the 61,000 notices sent out by the postmaster general instructing postmasters to take a careful and accurate account of the number of pieces and the statistics of free matter mailed at their respective offices during the full seven days beginning Monday, the 5th, at 6 o'clock. It is our opinion that it is quite a complicated instruction and will occasion much additional labor.

—The pupils and teachers of Garrard College had their annual picnic on May day. The primary department, under charge of Miss Vivian, went to the river on the Stanford road, while the collegiate department and teachers, reinforced by all the boys and girls in town, went to the bridge on the Danville road. A most enjoyable time is reported. The bridge proved to be a nice dancing place while Prof. Koester furnished the most entrancing music with his violin.

—With genuine pleasure the many friends of Pete Hampton, the jolly stage driver welcomed him among them last week. He is full of life and universally polite and accommodating, his answers are always ready, bright and to the point, his innumerable witty remarks occasioned much mirth among his appreciative audiences. Come often, Mr. Hampton, "here's at you, here's to you, if we never had a seed you we never would have known you."

—Mrs. Charles Speigel, Vincennes, Ind., is visiting her cousin, Miss Lilly Noel, on Water street. Miss Kate Knauer returned Thursday from Danville, where she had spent 10 days as the guest of Miss Lucile Caldwell. Mrs. S. Marris left the 5th to accept a position at Knoxville. Miss Katherine Yeiser, College, is visiting Miss Mary Burk, Danville. Mrs. Belle Brunsdale, Mt. Vernon, is at home for a short stay. James R. Marris, W. B. Nichols and Henry Cartwright, of the Central Journal force, went over to Danville, Saturday, in order to spend Sunday with the homefolks. John W. Miller is taking in Middlesboro, Knox, and Cumberland. Mrs. Ellen Bradley, mother of Hon. W. D. Bradley, is visiting her daughters at Somerset. Miss Kate Landman leaves shortly for an extended visit in Harrison county. Mrs. S. D. Rothwell is seriously sick. Robert I. Hughes, the affable and accommodating manager of the Central Journal, is in Louisville visiting his friend C. S. Herring, and taking in the Booth-Medjeska engagement. "Dad" Hughes is one of the most universally and deservedly popular boys in Lancaster. It is said, almost unanimously, "he is the nicest boy in town." He appears himself to business with remarkable energy and is noted for the great respect and consideration shown his parents and his kindness to his young brothers and sister and all that constitutes a gentleman. Walker Landman, deputy collector, is at home after an absence of several weeks. Mrs. M. E. Hayden left Monday for Louisville, where she intends to make her home. Miss Mary Scott, of Nicholasville, visited her aunt, Mrs. Elizabeth Mason last week. Mrs. E. H. Young left Saturday last for Winchester to visit Mrs. Richard Embury. Sam M. Anderson, wife and daughter, of Gallatin, Tennessee, are visiting the parents of Mr. Anderson.

—Boys.—In his speech before the South Carolina Press Association, Mr. Henry Watterson said of boys: "Whenever and wherever you see a 'boom' hit it. Whenever and wherever you see a 'boom' spot him. The 'boom' is the devil's own invention. First to rob the victim of his money, and then the 'boom' of his soul. Cities are not built by boys, countries are not advanced by them. They are the merest artificial stimulants, compounded of brandy, printer's ink and midnight oil, and as fatal to the community to which they are applied as a dynamite shell. True prosperity is the diffusion of wealth, cheap homes for the poor and opportunities for all."

—At Rockford, Ill., a mother on her dying bed wanted to see her two daughters mated for life, before death took her from them forever, and their lovers agreeing, the ceremony was performed in her presence. She remained conscious during its performance, but shortly afterwards departed to the great beyond.

—The Dallas, Texas, Times Herald contains a vivid description of the wedding of Dr. Hugh L. McLaurine and Miss Kate Gaud, which occurred a few days ago at the Christian church and the elegant residence of Gen. and Mrs. R. M. Gage, on Easton avenue. It was the grandest affair of the kind ever witnessed in Dallas, being complete in every particular and in keeping with the high standing of the family there and in their native State. The church and home decorations were lavish and superb and the event altogether was one long to be remembered. Among the long list of costly and useful presents, Col. W. G. Welch's name appears as the donor of a magnificent bronze clock, surmounted by three bronze statues representing music. The groom's present to the bride was a beautiful watch studded with diamonds and rubies and richly engraved with their monogram, and the date of their marriage, and gold finger chain with diamond pendant. His presents to the four bridesmaids were lovely forget-me-not lace pins, and the bouquets that the brides carried were given by the bride.

W. P. WALTON.

SENATOR BECK is dead! The end, which has seemed inevitable for some time, came suddenly and without warning Saturday afternoon, as he alighted from a train from New York, whither he had been to consult a physician as to his condition. In the same depot in Washington and almost in the same spot that Garfield fell, the life of the great statesman went out. His daughter, Mrs. Goodloe, was with him and she was nearly prostrated by the sudden and cruel blow. The remains were taken at once to Col. W. C. P. Brockinridge's residence, where hundreds of sorrowing friends called during the evening. The funeral services will be held to-day in the Senate Chamber, after which the body will be brought to Lexington and laid beside his wife, who preceded him to the tomb about a couple of years, and whose death he never ceased to mourn. The loss of no public man in Kentucky or in the nation at large, for that matter, would have been felt more than is that of Senator Beck, for he was indeed a man of affairs, and although a strong partisan, looked not to party advantage alone, but to the good of the whole country. Neither a brilliant man nor an eloquent orator, Senator Beck was nevertheless a man of great intellect and whenever he spoke on the various questions that came up for discussion during his long public life, he was listened to with the profoundest attention by both parties, as he never asserted anything he could not substantiate and always prepared himself with every fact and any amount of figures to sustain his argument. He was in fact a walking encyclopedia of knowledge of public affairs and a great, broad man, as well developed mentally as physically. A grand man has fallen and the country grieves with unaffected sorrow. The democracy has lost one of its ablest leaders and the South a friend who ever came to her defense in time of need. Cox, Randall and Beck! All dead in a few short weeks! Truly does death love shining marks and sorely does the country and democracy lose by the victory of the King of Terrors. Senator Beck was in every sense a self-made man, rising as he did from a common farm hand to the next highest office in the country. He was as modest as he was genial and lovable, as this short sketch of his life, written by himself for the Congressional Directory, shows: "James B. Beck, of Lexington, was born in Dumfriesshire, Scotland, on February 13, 1822; received an academic education in Scotland; graduated as a lawyer at Transylvania University, Lexington, Kentucky, in March, 1846, and practiced there, never holding any office until elected a representative in the 40th, 41st, 42d and 43d Congresses; declined a re-election as representative; was elected to the United States Senate as a democrat to succeed John W. Stevenson, democrat; took his seat March 5, 1877, and was re-elected in 1882 and '88. His term of office will expire March 3, 1895."

EDITOR LEWIS is after the judges in general, and Judge Morrow in particular, for accepting with such alacrity the increase of $600 in salary, which was rushed through the legislature at its last session by very questionable means. He says in the Somerset Republican that Judge Morrow's trump card in 1883 and 1886 was the denunciation of democratic political tricksters for increasing the salaries from time to time as well as new offices, some of which were unnecessary. The judge, he charges, spent $500 in Pulaski alone to get the office, knowing full well the salary and duties of it, and his friends were surprised at his acceptance of an increased salary. Editor Lewis is noted for his disposition to "speak out in meeting," but he should not be too hard on the judge. It is mighty hard for a politician, especially if he be a republican, to be consistent and harder still for him to resist the filthy lure, whether voted by democratic tricksters or not.

MR. CHARLES GREEN, of Louisville, is going to have a tough time in his canvass for Auditor. He was assistant under Auditor Hewitt for eight years and it was his special duty to make settlements with Treasurer Tate and he did make most of them monthly and bi-monthly. Two months after he left the office Tate skipped out and his accounts showed that his defalcation had run through a number of years. Mr. Green did not discover anything wrong; if he did he never said anything about it, and the question will arise, if he didn't, why didn't he if he is worthy to be called an accountant at all? Even if Mr. Green can explain, we believe the people will want a new deal, and so believing we have nominated the Hon. R. C. Warren for Auditor and the nomination has been very flatteringly received. Hurrah for Lincoln county's entry!

THE Louisville Times celebrated its sixth birth day by issuing a 16-page edition and crowding it full of good things. The success of the paper has been truly wonderful, even with its great resources to command it. Brains in the editorial rooms, capacity in the business management and skill in the mechanical department have contributed to make the Times one of the very best evening papers in the country.

THE succession to Senator Beck is now the main theme of discussion in Kentucky and at Washington. At the latter place it seems a settled question that Carlisle will be chosen, but here in Kentucky, where the work is to be done, the matter is not so certain. At present it looks like Senator Wm. Lindley has the call, with Gov. McCreary, Gov. Buckner, Gov. Knott, Col. Brockinridge, John Young Brown and Jim McKenzie and others discussed. This section is for McCreary for anything he wants, but whether he will make an effort for the succession is a matter of doubt. He can represent this district in Congress as long as he wants and go to the Senate as he is sure to do, later. The legislature being in session it will devolve upon it to elect a senator at once and if the governor notified it of the vacancy as he promised to do yesterday, the following will commence next Tuesday, 13th. While the people are for him we take it that Gov. Buckner is out of the question, because his honest and straightforward course has made him a sufficient number of enemies among the small fry members to defeat him. It is conceded that Carlisle is too much needed in the Lower House to permit his removal and there are more or less obstacles in the way of the promotion of the others mentioned, save that of John Young Brown. It is stated that the ambition of his life is to go to the U. S. Senate and that his candidacy for governor has that for its ultimate object. With his section solid for him and sending up the old cry that that portion of the State never gets any recognition in the shape of offices, his candidacy for governor has been regarded very favorably and has made him apparently the leading man. Now as he cares less for the governorship than the senatorship, if the members of the legislature from his section press his claims he will necessarily have much following from other portions of the State, where he is thought to be in the way of a certain other candidate for governor. If therefore a combination of this kind can be formed, John Young Brown will have his ambition to be U. S. Senator gratified and somebody else will claim the coveted gubernatorial persimmon. At least this is the way it looks to a man at this distance when viewing the situation from a very high perch up a tree.

Gov. BECKNER has announced to the General Assembly his resignation and all other connection with the duties of the Commissioner of the Sinking Fund, which are alike disagreeable and onerous and not imposed by the constitutional requirement. This action was taken because of the carping, mean and factious criticism that men in the legislature, unworthy to untie the latches of his shoes have been making on his disinterested services in connection with the prison management and existing contracts. As usual the governor is right. He does not propose to give his time and best ability to a "thanky" job and then get abused like a pickpocket by men clothed in a little brief authority just because they can.

AS Secretary of the Kentucky Press Association, we are already in receipt of a response from Gen. Passenger Agent J. K. McCracken, of the Louisville, St. Louis & Texas Pacific railroad, extending the courtesies of his road free to those of the editors who will use it in reaching the Winchester meeting, on application to us for passes. The liberality of the management of this road was enjoyed and appreciated by the editors last year and Mr. McCracken evidently believes that he cannot do too much of a good thing. We thank him in advance for this liberal offer.

THE more sanguine prohibitionists, who believe that everything happens for the best, are assuming to get much consolation out of the recent decision of the Supreme court that neither the State of Iowa nor any other State can cause the seizure during transit of liquor in original packages. They say that like the Dred Scot decision it will awaken the moral sense of the people, make the issue a national instead of a local one, and in the end force Congress to adopt measures in accord with their hobby.

DURING the progress of a big fire in Chicago a policeman rushed into the burning building and rescued what he thought was a beautiful woman overcome by the shock of the moment. He bore her from in triumph to the patrol wagon and accompanied it with a degree of pride to the station, when it was discovered that all his gallantry and heroism had been wasted on a wax figure. And he went off and kicked himself.

WE have it pretty straight that if Senator Beck had died during the recess of the Legislature Gov. Buckner, who is very fond of him, would have appointed Gov. Knott to fill the vacancy. If the Legislature had adjourned in time, therefore, it would have been Senator Knott now.

A WEALTHY Jessamine county farmer, Fountaine Land, aged 65, was "bumped out" of $5,000 by a couple of men who proposed to make him a fortune almost in the twinkling of eye. Another case of covetousness and a further example of a fool and his money are soon parted.

—The House will commence its talk on the tariff bill to-morrow. When the measure comes to the Senate how the country will miss James B. Beck.

WHEN the Mason Ford communication to the Senate, asking to be relieved of their contract, was read, Senator Newman is said to have denounced the company as the most corrupt gang of men that had ever infested the State and charged that the administration of the executive office was in full sympathy with them. He pronounced the communication a mere bluff, and dealt in a tirade of abuse of the losses, the governor and the whole administration. To those who are aware of the devious ways and methods of this pot-house politician, it is unnecessary to do more than remind them of them. He is certainly feeding with the wrong man when he gets after Gov. Buckner, who will not be disposed to condone such language made even under the protection of debate. It is indeed a shame that such a creature should be permitted to vilify one who in honesty and singleness of purpose has but few peers and no superiors.

The eastern lamb buyers will be at the yards from May 1 to the close of the season.

—Twenty-two buildings, the entire business portion of Gibson, a village in New York, were destroyed by fire Saturday. The loss is estimated at $150,000; insurance $50,000.

IN a recent sale of old books and manuscripts in New York a letter written by Christopher Columbus sold for $2,000. It consisted of one hundred and sixteen lines, and eighty-four words, and very easy words at that, were spelled the most convenient way. Mr. Columbus was good at sailing but mighty poor at spelling, though in his day it was just as proper to spell out with a "k" as in any other way.

CHARLESMAN'S will is still in existence. It gives an interesting description of treasures which have long since disappeared. Among these were three tables of silver and one of gold, of considerable size and weight. On the first was traced the plan of the city of Constantinople; upon the second a view of Rome; the third composed of three zones containing a description of the whole universe, figured with skill and delicacy.

SIGHTS!

THE LOUISVILLE STORE

Since the opening of our Spring trade we have been crowded with eager buyers purchasing bargains that can not be duplicated elsewhere. Our prices do not suit our competitors but our customers are pleased and we are satisfied. Goods well bought are already half sold. This is the secret of our success.

EXAMINE OUR PRICES

In Dry Goods, Shoes, Hats, Trunks, Carpets, Matting, &c., and we feel assured of your patronage.

There are hundreds of men who don't buy their new Spring Suit till about the 1st of May. By this they avoid the bad weather of April and secure the very latest styles in the market. And right now we are giving you the best Clothing for the money, no matter what the price, of any house in this town. Men's Blue Cottonade pants 50 cents per pair, sold elsewhere for 75 cents. Men's genuine Moleskin Pants at 75c, sold elsewhere at $1. Seersucker Coats and Vests made of the best material at $1, sold elsewhere at $1.50. We will sell this week a handsome line of Suits at $5 and $6, which are sold elsewhere at $7.50 and $8.50. One great advantage mothers seem to appreciate in buying Boys' and Children's Clothing of us is that they have little trouble in finding what pleases them in our vast assortment, so well is it selected, as regards style, fabric, fashion, patterns and prices. $1.25 will buy a Boy's Knee Pants Suit worth $2. $1.50 will buy an extra nice Suit worth $2.50. $2.50 and $3 will buy an all wool boy's Knee Pants Suit worth double the money. All we ask is to come and judge for yourselves.

ELEGANT Dinner Sets of 101 pieces at S. S. Myers'.

J. M. HAN, bought of O. P. Newland 5 shares Lincoln National Bank stock at $115.

It has been raining for several days, but the signal service promises clear and cooler weather to-day.

The harvest machine men and a patent medicine man with a banjo picking, dancing and singing negro, monopolized the attention of the court attendants yesterday.

The property on Danville street owned by the Hughes heirs and now owned by Mr. Reuben Engleman, was sold at public auction yesterday to Bob Engleman for $225.

I have a line of nice millinery, which I invite the ladies of McKinney and vicinity to call and examine before purchasing elsewhere. Thanking the public for their kind patronage in the past, I solicit a continuance of the same. Mrs. M. V. Tabler.

A CHANGE of schedule on the Knoxville Division went into effect Sunday. There is no change in the express trains, but No. 23, day passenger, now passes here at 11:30 a. m., 5 minutes earlier and No. 24 at 1:16 p. m., 15 minutes earlier. The local freight, North bound, passes at 6:15 a. m., and South bound at 5:15 p. m.

As ice cream freezer, which does its work in less than 10 seconds, was on exhibition here yesterday by Mr. J. D. Lewis, representative of the State agency at Bowling Green. Milk, water and beer were each separately poured in and in less time than it takes to write this came out hard frozen. You can hardly believe this even after seeing it, but the act remains nevertheless.

Mrs. COOPER is unusually busy this week. The postmaster general has notified her to keep a careful record of every piece of mail matter and the weight of all paid postage matter mailed at this office, with the amount of postage thereon, together with the statistics of free matter mailed during the seven consecutive days from May 5 to May 12, beginning and ending at 6 a. m. on those days. The order applies to each of the 6,000 post-offices in the United States.

While returning from town Friday afternoon Mrs. Bettie McKinney and daughter, Miss Mary, met with an accident which was not far short of a fatality. The horse they were driving became frightened and ran at a break-neck speed for nearly a mile, when he was pulled into a fence. This upset the buggy and the occupants were with great force thrown to the ground, badly spraining the arm and shoulder of Mrs. McKinney and bruising Miss Mary considerably. The vehicle was badly demolished and it was a miracle that both Mrs. McK. and daughter were not killed.

Mrs. COOPER has always claimed that he buried a girl belonging to Mr. Montgomery to death, but the statement is about as much believed as his other one that he used to "russ" Uncle Jimmy Warren, now 80 years old. A well authenticated story of hitting on ox to death, however, comes from Missouri. A negro named "Big Six" did it on a wager. After the performance there was a small lump on the negro's head, but he suffered no pain. "Big Six" stands five feet ten inches, weighs 240 pounds and the muscles of his arms, shoulders and chest stand out in knots.

LAND EXTENSION TO SOMERSET, Ky.—The Queen & Crescent Route will on May 19th, 20th and 21st sell round-trip excursion tickets to Somerset and return at low rates for the great sale of business and residence lots, oil leases, &c., on May 20th and 21st. Somerset, the Queen City of the Mountains is the Gate City of the great Kentucky oil fields, the county seat of Pulaski, the great fruit county of Kentucky, a prosperous city of 3,500. A magazine of wealth underlies the county for many miles, consisting of coal, iron, lead, lithographic stone, building, limestone, plate glass sand, gas and oil. For particulars call on or address agents of the Q. & C. Route or agents of connecting lines.

THURSDAY FOR THE RAILROAD!—The proposition to subscribe $250,000 to the capital stock of the Cumberland River Railroad for the purpose of buying the right-of-way in this county, was voted Saturday in the Standard and Turnersville precincts, the only two in which it was submitted, by the gratifying majority of 487. Our people have never been as unanimous on such a proposition before and the vote shows how anxious they are for the building of this great thoroughfare. We wish we could state emphatically that the road would be built at once, but this cannot be done. Mr. Huntington has promised to examine the line in a ride over its entire length and Nashville parties are anxious to take hold of the enterprise. The road will certainly be built and that before very long and Saturday's work puts us in the best of shape to confer with those who wish to construct it. The vote in detail is as follows: Standard, No. 1, for issue of bonds 248, against 15; No. 2, for 254, against 37; No. 3 (Trumble), for 14, against 46; Turnersville, for 155, against 86. The vote polled is not very large, but in addition to the proposition to issue bonds being carried by 487 majority of the votes cast, it has a majority of all the votes in the two precincts.

The applicants for the new voting precinct at McCormicks failed to appear before the court yesterday and we suppose the matter has been dropped for the present.

The murder case of Bates who killed Bartleson in Wayne is set for trial at Monticello to-day and Hon. R. C. Warren, who is employed to prosecute, has gone thither.

A great public sale of lots in the booming city of Ashland will occur May 20th. Investors would do well to read the advertisement in another column and make it a point to attend.

There was some canvassing among the republicans yesterday about a county ticket, but if they did anything it did not leak out. If they make any light it will be by the usual still-hunt means, we opine.

The following card was received yesterday: "Born, Elizabeth, to Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McCurdy, April 25, 1890, at 9 a. m., 1917 Forest avenue, Kansas City, Mo." The mother was Miss Alma Hays, late of this place, and her friends send congratulations to her and her little lord.

The Somerset Reporter says the LITERARY JOURNAL is usually 36 hours late in reaching there. As we mail the papers for that place on the nights they are printed, they should reach there the day they are dated at noon, and we shall see if a little complaint to headquarters can not remedy this unpardonable carelessness of the mail clerks.

The prohibitionists did not meet publicly to nominate county officers yesterday, but the committee, Chairman John C. Neal tells us, agreed to defer the matter till the June court day, when it seems to be the impression that they will then decide that it is best not to nominate candidates.

Col. HENRY DUDDELL is spreading himself again. He has just purchased of Mr. Lewis Duddler 72 acres of land just below the Rowland boundary at $18 and will we suppose lay it off in town lots. This is the biggest bargain we have heard of lately and the colonel is bound to make money on his purchase.

BARBOURVILLE.—President J. G. Givens, of the Barbourville Land and Improvement Company, was here Saturday. He says that his company is making big improvements and that Barbourville is the coming town. Already $60,000 worth of lots have been sold at scheduled rates. The auction sales, if any, will not occur till after the Middleboro sales, May 26-31.

Mr. W. E. MOORE writes us from Pullion that our Crab Orchard correspondent is mistaken in saying he is up there on a visit to Wix Billion. The fact is he is at work at the saw mill and has the hardest job there. He also says the river is in fine fix for fishing and fishermen are cordially invited to come up and stay at the free hotel that will be open this week.

This rather gloomy prediction for May is made by Prof. Hicks, the weather prophet. "The first two or three days of May will be cloudy and wet and will be followed up to the reactionary moderations about the 6th, by cool days and nights with hard frosts in many parts of the country. The equinoxes of both Mercury and Venus fall on the 12, hence, expect about the 11, 12, 13 and 14, a succession of hard storms. Tornadoes at this time will be a natural result. Be on the lookout, should angry, electrical clouds gather about these days. Late frosts to the northward will come after the storms of this period. Earthquakes probable. Secondary disturbances about the 15th. The equinox of Mars falls on the 16th and will intensify the storm period from the 21st to the 26th. This may be counted a danger period. Watch the 23d, 24th and 26th. Storms about the 30th."

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—Knoxville has 34 churches, representing nearly every denomination.

—The new Christian church in this city, one of the finest structures in the State, will be dedicated on the first Sunday in June, Carlisle Mercury.

—The Southern Baptist Theological Seminary commencement will take place May 26. There will be about 12 full graduates and three times as many more in the various schools.

—Late advices from Japan say that Rev. T. A. Lange, belonging to the Methodist mission of Canada, was stabbed to death by two burglars in his residence at Tokio, April 5. One of the murderers has since been caught.

—On May 15th the Methodists of the State will celebrate the centennial of their first conference. The celebration will be held on the Chantanooga grounds at Lexington. Eminent speakers from several different States are to make addresses. People of all religious beliefs are invited to attend and enjoy the occasion. Basket dinner will be served and railroads will give half-fare rates.

—The various congregations of this place are making an effort to secure J. B. Culpepper and M. A. Williams, two noted Southern evangelists, to hold annual meetings here. They carry their own tent, which has a seating capacity of 1,200, and also have a cornetist and fine singer. Subscriptions are being taken and those wishing to donate can be waited upon by either S. S. Myers or A. C. Sims.
